tomorrow. I move we meet tomorrow at 9:00 o'clock when the time comes.

SPEAKER: Well I, the Chair suggests that, we have an indication on the board of those that are not going to be here. All those that are not going to be here, please indicate so on the board. All those that are going to be here, do not vote. Everybody who is not going to be here, press either a red or a green button. If you're going to be here, do not vote at all. Every button up there indicates you're going to be--you're not going to be here. If you press a button, that indicates you're not going to be here tomorrow. If you don't press a button, that indicates you're going to be here. If you're going to be here tomorrow, don't vote. Senator Cavanaugh.

SENATOR CAVANAUGH: My button means that I will be here.

SPEAKER: Alright, if you want to do it that way, I could care less. Clear the board, Mr. Clerk. Senator Dickinson.

SENATOR DICKINSON: Mr. Speaker, I've talked about this before but we've got a lot of school youngsters here this morning and I wonder how they would like it if their teacher would come around or superintendent of schools on Thursday and say, how many are going to be here tomorrow and give them that choice. I think this is a little bit ridiculous. We have some obligation to be here and we shouldn't make it that easy. Thank you.

SPEAKER: Senator Dickinson, we certainly appreciate you bringing this up at this time.

SENATOR BURBACH: Mr. President.

SPEAKER: Senator Burbach.

SENATOR BURBACH: I'd like to be excused tomorrow.

SPEAKER: Well alright then, the Chair's going to do this, if you consider this fair. We're just going to find out right now who's going to be excused and nobody, and anybody that isn't going to be excused I'm going to assume is going to be here. Just, everybody that wants to be excused, get up and say so and the Clerk will keep a record of this and I'll excuse them all at the same time. Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. Speaker, before you do that, I have a motion. I would like to resolve the issue as expeditiously as possible. I move that when we adjourn today, we reconvene Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

SPEAKER: Alright, we have a motion before us. I guess that'll, may solve the problem. The question is--the motion is that when we adjourn today, we reconvene at 10:00 A.M. Monday morning, is that your motion, Senator Chambers? All those in favor of that motion vote aye. Those opposed vote no. Have you all voted? Clerk will record.

CLERK: 21 ayes, 21 nays, 7 not voting.

SPEAKER: Motion fails. Senator Syas.

SENATOR SYAS: Well, the motion failed and I'm for being here tomorrow because I voted red but you--now you have a practical consideration that only 21 have agreed to be here which is lacking a quorum.

SPEAKER: Chair is going to make a, an auspicious ruling. If
